DANCE: Kasarah Juneau

Kasarah is serious about her dance studies - she stays open to feedback and is able to apply it whether that feedback is specifically for her or something suggested to the class as a whole. Her choreography is engaging and she is open to new ideas. She asks questions and makes connections to other disciplines. Kasarah is taking Dance 1 for PE 2 credit and will be getting a Fine Arts credit for Dance 2/Company next year.
Congratulations Kasarah!

VISUAL ART: Camille Belkus

Camille is a thoughtful and dedicated senior. She took Ceramics 1 and is currently enrolled in Design and Metalsmithing. Camille has found a home in the art room and she often returns during her study period to visit and work. She thoroughly enjoys the creative process and is intent on making quality work with personal connection and meaning. It's obvious that Camille has discovered the joy of creating!

MUSIC: Landan Villeneuve

Landan Villeneuve is this month's music student of the month. Landan is a strong musician, peer leader, and valuable member of the music program. This year, he has excelled in music theory 1 and 2, and plays the trumpet in the jazz ensemble, wind ensemble, and student run brass quintet. For Memorial Day, Landan and another student will perform taps at multiple ceremonies in town. Landan is graduating this year and will attend UNH in the fall to study music education. Congratulations Landan and good luck!

THEATRE: Alycia Leriche

Alycia is a star student in our Intro to Theatre class. She is a very hard worker and her passion for theatre is clearly evident in everything she does in class. Alycia has poise and confidence well beyond her years. Recently she performed a solo number as part of the PA Players end-of-the-year showcase and absolutely crushed it. In the theatre final performance, she is playing one of the lead roles and has done an amazing job making adjustments to the script to split one part into two. Alycia is the future of theatre at PA and that future is very bright!
